

The hand that rocks the cradle rules the nation and its destiny. – South African proverb. Mother's Day is a holiday celebrated in many countries, but not all countries celebrate on the same day or even within the same month. Mother's Day in the United States always falls on the 2nd Sunday in May.

Moms are Special

A swift journey into the world ahead
The first breath of life is taken, the first cry is heard.
Their eyes meet, the bonds of love are created,
And from that moment on, she is safe and sound in the arms of love.

As each day passes, the first steps of life

are taken,

And the first words are spoken.

Each success and milestone, each trial and error

Her Mother stands beside her; she is safe and sound in the arms of love.

Along the path of life, a mother guides her child.

A teacher of right from wrong, a praiser of the successes,

A shoulder to cry on, a listener and most of all a best friend.

And always she knows that she is safe and sound in the arms of love.

A baby becomes a child, a child becomes a teenager

And in the blink of an eye, the teenager becomes an adult.

The years pass on and it is time to spread her wings and fly

But near or far, she will always be safe and sound in the arms of love.

Bright-eyed, she looks at the world before her

So full of hope and dreams, wonder and awe.

Deep in her heart and soul, her Mother still stands beside her.

She is safe and sound in the arms of love.

It is her secret promise, and one that will not be tainted.

One blessed day, a baby arrives into the world.
She has now become a Mother and for the first time
She feels the unconditional love that a Mother feels for a child.
Her baby is safe and sound in the arms of love.

She only hopes that she becomes the wise, beautiful and strong Mother
That she was so fortunate to have been blessed with.
She has many dreams for her child,
And she hopes her child will always feel safe and sound in the arms of love.

Nothing endures like a Mother's love.
A Mother's love is never forgotten and is always felt
Through the journey of life and each road taken.
Safe and sound in the arms of love.
